The best shopping centres in Hong Kong are easily accessible by MTR, and there is a good chance that one is located near you. They have a wide variety of department stores, electronics shops, food courts, and much more.

I like going to famous malls like Langham Place and New Town Plaza. These modern shopping centres are trendy, spacious, and unique. Their shop assistants are helpful and they offer a great shopping experience, but my friend Sally likes to shop at the APM. She says older less trendy malls often have better discounts, so she is able to spend less money and still get great looking clothes.
